AT&T is pleased to acknowledge that Communication Systems International, Inc. is an AT&T Authorized Agent of AT&T business communications services such as Internet access, data networking, web hosting, local and long distance. To meet the communications needs of the customers, AT&T teams with companies whose capabilities complement our own.

Unlike the reseller programs, when you purchase AT&T services from an AT&T Authorized Agent, you will be an AT&T customer and receive AT&T network management, customer care and billing.

The AT&T Authorized Agents have access to world-class sales support and industry-recognized educational programs. AT&T recognizes their educational achievements and rewards high performance. To become an AT&T Authorized Agent, Communication Systems International, Inc. had to meet stringent requirements.

In today's economy, it's crucial that you spend your valuable resources wisely, and realize a higher return on your communications investment. Contact Shaun Dean at 800-441-1000 today for an assessment of your current technology needs including recommendations for increasing your operational efficiency.

Sincerely,

Celine Azizkhan
